Calendar of New Jersey Wills

NOTE.—The books cited as Libers 1, 2, 3, etc., are of West Jersey wills. Those cited as Libers A, B, C, etc., are of East Jersey wills. Where matters beside recorded wills, such as inventories, accounts, etc., are noted, the originals may be found in the proper envelopes (arranged by counties), reference to which is made in the volumes (three volumes) entitled "Index to Wills," published by the Secretary of State in 1912 and 1913, which should always be consulted in case originals are to be referred to. Where the chief matter is not of record in books, the envelope numbers are given herewith, although in Bergen, Essex, Middlesex and Monmouth counties, the original papers are bound instead of being in envelopes. All original matters herein abstracted are to be found in the Secretary of State's office at Trenton. All proper names are believed to be spelled as in the originals.

1759, June 20. Forman, Jonathan, Esq., of Freehold, Monmouth Co.; will of."being old." Wife, Margaret, ½ of my farm where I live and the household goods, which, after her death, are to be divided among my children and granddaughter, Eleanor Van Dorn. Son, Samuel, £10. Son, John, £10. Son, Peter, the land that joins Nicholas Stillwell and George Rhe. To the youngest children of my son, Jonathan, deceased, £20 each, when they are 21 (in all £60);

but, if the eldest brother, when he is of age, shall give to his youngest brother and two sisters a share of their father's estate, then he shall have his part of the £60, "and his equal part that I designed for their father of my brother Samuel Forman, deceased's estate, hereafter mentioned." Daughter, Mary, wife of Robert Rhe, £100. Granddaughter, Eleanor Van Dorn, furniture, cows, negro, etc. Son, David, the rest of my lands. Eldest son, Samuel, aforesaid, ⅓ of my lands in New England, which were bequeathed to me by my brother, Samuel Forman, dec'd, and the other ⅔ to my other children. My brother Samuel, in his will, left me land at Portsmouth, Rhode Island, of 62 acres, as well as to my brothers, Joseph and Ezekiel, and there was to be paid out to our three sisters, Hannah Madock, Mary Romine, and Rebecca, £50 each, but Ezekiel died before brother Samuel; therefore that bequest was void, and I, being heir-at-law to that part, was willing and did pay half of said legacies given to my three sisters; therefore my brother Joseph and myself have sold the said land, and paid the legacies to our sisters. But I am willing that brother, Ezekiel's, children, shall enjoy what was left to him, had he lived to inherit it, although it was not to his children, for at the time brother Samuel made his will brother Ezekiel had no children, therefore it is fallen to me, and I give the rest of the money to my brother, Ezekiel's, children, as follows: to Samuel (son of Ezekiel) £80; to Thomas, £70; to Aaron, £70; to Ezekiel, £70. 1763, June 8. Maxfield, Caleb, of Essex Co. Ward. Petition of Caleb Maxfield, an orphan, of 14 years of age, and other inhabitants of Elizabeth Town, Showing that Samuel Maxfield, of said town, deceased, did die intestate, leaving three children, viz., Rachel, Caleb and Rhoda; and the children, Rachel and Caleb, made choice of their father-in-law, Ephraim Frazee (who had married their mother), to be their Guardian, who obtained Letters accordingly; that said Ephraim Frazee, being reduced in his circumstances and about to remove into the back parts of Virginia, and his security being doubtful, makes it necessary that another Guardian be appointed; and the said Caleb hath made choice of John Darby, of Elizabeth Town, for that purpose; and the estate of the youngest of the said children, named Rhoda (now under 14) being in possession of Daniel Potter, who is become aged and infirm, and desires that said Darby be appointed for the youngest child: Therefore we desire that John Darby, be made Guardian of said children, although the eldest child, Rachel, has not joined in the application, she living with her father-in-law, and not being willing to give any uneasiness in the family by any act of hers. Signed by Caleb Maxfield, Thomas Squire (grandfather), Daniel Potter, who was the guardian of the children; Recom Stanbery, William Darby.

1769, Feb. 8. Read, Alice, of Burlington Co.; will of; being the wife of Charles Read, Esq., of New Jersey, and daughter of Jacob Thibou, late of the Island of Antigua, and Dorothy, his wife, who, after the decease of Jacob Thibou, married Francis Delap of said Island, by articles of marriage of the Honorable Thomas Jarvis, of said Island. At or about the time of his marriage with Rachel Thibou, sister of me, the said Alice Read [was] intitled to money, and am by virtue of the will of my mother, Dorothy Delap, intitled to money which was bequeathed to me by the will of said Dorothy Delap, made during the life of Francis Delap, and dated about Nov. 1, 1757, and proved and recorded in the Registry of Wills in Antigua, which was made during the coverture of the said Dorothy

[and] reserved to her by one Indenture Tripartite, entered into between Francis Delap, of one part, James Doig and Nisbett Darby, of 2nd part, and Dorothy Thibou, of 3rd part, and dated July 1, 1745; and one other Indenture between Francis Delap and his wife, Dorothy, of one part, and James Doig and Nisbett Darby, of other part, dated Feb. 10, 1747; and another Indenture between the last recited parties, dated March 12, 1750; and by the will of Dorothy Delap, after reciting the Indentures, she bequeaths to Francis Delap and James Doig all her estate in trust, and the share given to Alice, the wife of Charles Read, shall not be paid in the life of said Charles, either to him or Alice, but, notwithstanding the coverture, the same shall be disposed of as said Alice shall direct by writing, and to go as she directs after her death; but if the said Charles Read dies before his wife, Alice, then it shall be paid into her hands; and Dorothy, the mother of Alice is long since dead, and the sums due to Alice Read, by virtue of the marriage articles and by the will of Dorothy Delap, is now in the hands of William Livingston, of Island of Antigua; and therefore I bequeath £700 of the same to my cousins, James Pemberton and John Pemberton, of Philadelphia, merchants, and my friend, Samuel Allinson, of Burlington, in trust, to receive what I give to my son, Jacob, and my grandson, Charles Read, and such part as is necessary is to be sent to Philadelphia in the produce of Antigua, there to be sold, and out of the proceeds I give to Jacob Read the interest of £500, and, if he dies without issue after his father, the principal is to be paid to my grandchildren, reckoning what he will have at my decease of the money which was settled on me by the marriage articles of Thomas Jarvis, as part of the £500. Grandson, Charles Read, to have £200 in trust, and he is to be put to school. The rest of money I give to my husband, Charles Read, and my son, Charles. INDEXES

I. INDEX OF NAMES OF PERSONS

II. INDEX OF PLACE-NAMES

Index of Names of Persons

NOTE.—The names of testators, intestate persons, or wards, printed in heavy type in the preceding text, are not repeated in this Index, as a rule.

Where surnames in common use to-day, or at least with well-known spellings, are unusually or curiously used in the text, the current modern spelling is substituted in this Index, to facilitate reference. An exception is where proper spelling is uncertain. To a lesser extent the same rule has been applied to Christian names.
